Baseball

Another heart-breaker for Guam baseball. For the second time in three years, Guam has lost to the host in the gold medal game. First to the CNMI in 2022 and now Palau.

The format was supposedly to be a 23U tournament, but the other countries brought their experienced players up into their 40s – except Guam. Nevertheless, Guam proved to play with the men once again, only to fall short for the gold.

3x3 basketball

It was a grueling tournament with some tough competition. The format was a true 23U tournament.

Our young men finished in 5th out of six teams, after a 4-8 record despite being +5 in point differential.

Our women's team had to pull out of the competition after the first couple of days of play. Coming into Palau with only three players, one had to return home early, leaving them to forfeit the remainder of their games.

Beach volleyball

Our women's team of Austia Mendiola/Kirsten Serrano represented well, rolling through the competition unbeaten before falling in the semis to the eventual gold medal team from Vanuatu. The D1 collegiate pair took home bronze.

Our men's squad finished a very respectable 7th place.

Judo

Hailee Webber (half middle-weight) led the way with a silver medal, while Kyle Nunez (half lightweight) squeezed in a bronze.

Softball

Another heart-breaker for Guam the day after baseball settled for silver. Our women's fastpitch softball team put up a valiant performance, but just couldn't figure out American Samoa, losing to them in pool play and in the gold medal game.

Swimming

Guam's top swimmers came close to medals early on, before finally hitting the podium with Amaya Bollinger's (silver 200m butterfly).

Mia Lee (50m freestyle) and Israel Poppe (200m freestyle) had bronze performances that both were just a hundredth of a second from being silver.

Triathlon

The 2x2 team won bronze. Jake Torres came in respectable 4th.

Manami Iijima was unable to defend her Mini Games crown due to illness the morning of the race.

Va'a

Guam's squad couldn't hang with some of the best paddlers in the region and the world. A true gauge on what to expect at this level of competition.

Weightlifting

Chloe Santos was the first Guam athlete to get a medal, doing it in fashion with a gold and two silvers.

Unfortunately, two lifters who were medalists in previous Games had to pull out right before the start for personal reasons and didn't make the trip.

Under her center, Chandler

Mendiola, quarterback "Bubba" Martinez was able to capitalize on great field position and run in two touchdowns herself.

"We're just taught to drive and keep our blocks. I'm trying to push them and then maybe, if it's not too rough, then I'll go up to the second level and get another guy too. It makes me happy [to get four touchdowns]. Makes me feel like the line should get a lot of credit for that because they can't do touchdowns without the line," center Mendiola said.

On defense, the Packers were equally as dominant, as the Angels backfield had nowhere to run.

Defensive ends Cohen Leon Guerrero and Savier Cruz were instrumental at stifling the run, keeping the Angels QB runs and reverse runs from getting to the outside. That allowed the Packers linebackers to swarm the run and prevent the Angels from getting very far.

"I was feeling hype. I was feeling good. I try to stop the play and make sure they don't gain yard so they don't win," Leon Guerrero said.

With an explosive showing on offense and suffocating defense, the Packers win their second to last game of the season. As playoff football approaches, the Packers look to carry this momentum into the postseason.

"Coaches are telling us to play hard. We want to play hard and be ready," Mendiola said.

Game recap

From opening kickoff, the Packers made a statement by falling on their own kick. As Unchangco squibbed the first kick, Lane fell on top of it.

From there, the Packers offense got the ball moving, looking to Unchangco and Lane to move the ball on the ground. After a big run up the middle from Lane sucked in the Angels secondary, Unchangco took advantage outside the left tackle into open space for a 20 yard touchdown.

After capitalizing on their onside kick by turning in seven points, the Packers nearly did it again as another Unchangco kick awkwardly bounced through the air and out of the hands of the Angels.

Luckily, the Angels were able to dive on it. On offense, the Angels sat back in shotgun with Jasper Ramos under center.

Looking to return the favor, Ramos stood behind his blockers and tried to break out to the edge. Leon Guerrero was there to meet him in the backfield for the Packers, and the defense swarmed him from there.

From there, the Packers defense was all over the field, denying the Angels any open space.

On offense, the Packers found a bit of a struggle as the Angels adjusted by stacking the box. With 20 yards to go on fourth down, however, the Packers made a gutsy play and handed the ball off to Unchangco.

Instead of running however, Unchangco looked down the field and found Jayce Hattori in the endzone for a passing touchdown.
